COURSES

Courses are taught in English. Terminology is somewhat different than in the U.S. Rather than referring to a ‘major’ the term ‘course’ is used, and their ‘modules’ are like our ‘courses’. Students should contact the Auburn Faculty Director or see the host institution’s website for current majors (course) and course (module) offerings.

PROGRAM COSTS

Auburn students pay Auburn tuition and fees for a full time student equal to 12 hours (based on their residency status) for semester programs, 4 hours for summer programs. The student will be enrolled in the Auburn Exchange Course (UNIV 3000) while abroad: Students will not pay tuition to the host university but may pay other fees and are also responsible for their meals, books, housing, and airfare. Auburn students will also pay for the International Emergency Travel Self Insurance for the duration of their program abroad.

Plymouth University advises students to budget approximately £800 per month minimum to meet living expenses.

ACCOMMODATIONS

Students typically live in shared flats or houses in the surrounding area. For further information on housing availability and options visit accommodation information.

LOCATION

Plymouth, Devon, England, UK

Plymouth University benefits from its attractive location with a vibrant city life and culture, set in dramatic countryside and close to some of Britain’s most beautiful beaches with excellent sailing and surfing opportunities. The city, Plymouth, is located between the mouths of the rivers Plym and Tamar in what is widely regarded as one of the world’s most impressive natural harbors. Aside from the beautiful waterfronts, Plymouth has a large amount of historical heritages that can be explored. Plymouth Sound, the city’s natural deep water harbor, brought the Royal Navy in the 17th century, helping to create a bustling Georgian port from its medieval origins. World War II negatively affected Plymouth, but the aftermaths of the bombing saw
Plymouth has been home to pioneers and politicians across the centuries and is a city steeped in history with the spirit of discovery and spirit of beauty which is no question why nearly 12 million people visit Plymouth each year.

EXCURSIONS

Independent Excursions: Students are encouraged to take advantage of the opportunity to travel during the semester as the course schedule allows. Plan on arriving a week before classes start in order to explore London for a couple of days and get settled into your housing accommodations. In addition, the British have a three week holiday during Easter allowing ample time to explore nearby countries.

Students will have the opportunity to immerse themselves in the community and culture of Plymouth. A great place to start looking for interesting organizations and activities is by visiting the Plymouth University Student Services webpage.

PASSPORT AND VISA REQUIREMENTS

If you do not have a PASSPORT: Please check www.travel.state.gov for the nearest local passport office and forms. Auburn Abroad recommends that you apply for a passport as soon as possible. If you already have a passport: Please check the expiration date. Passports should be valid for at least 6 months following your scheduled time abroad.

VISA REGULATION:

- For U.S. Citizens: It is recommended that students obtain a Tier 4 Student visa. For information on the application process, visit the Plymouth University website for Immigration and Visa Information.
- Non-U.S. Citizens should verify visa requirements for visits of any duration to the United Kingdom.
